

Proc case has successfully implemented Oracle Financials and deployed custom applications to help manage the complex reinsurance run-off business

Global Reinsurance Company

Client since June 2005
Location: Toronto, Ontario, Canada
Industry: Insurance

Client Overview

As Canada's largest reinsurance run-off company, Global Reinsurance (Global Re) helps customers manage their run-off portfolio, by planning liquidity, the cash-flow management requirements, deployment of assets, and reduction of capital allocated to the portfolio.

Client Objectives

Global Reinsurance needed a sophisticated financial application to automate the complex nature of their business. They selected Oracle Financials, and needed a nimble technology partner to implement the application, migrate legacy data and provide long term support.

Proc case Contribution

Proc case was ideally suited to be Global Reinsurance's implementation partner. Proc case is an Oracle Partner, with extensive experience with Oracle Financials implementations, and custom enterprise database application development on Oracle platforms.

The Proc case team acquired a detailed understanding Global Re's complex business process and implemented Oracle Financials to best suit their needs, then completed the task of converting legacy data to Oracle Financials. Proc case then initiated the redesign and close integration of several custom applications with Oracle Financials to ensure efficient data entry and a common view of all corporate data.

Proc case also provides Global Re-Insurance with a tailored support contract to enhance their systems availability and guard against emergency shut downs. Proc case provides a variety of skills on an as needed basis and on-call emergency support.

Technology

Oracle database, Oracle Applications, Oracle Application Server

Results

Proc case has played a significant role in the strategic redesign of all major Information systems at Global Reinsurance. Proc case is now a trusted partner, bringing an understanding of business processes and technical excellence to bear on complex systems.

The partnership between Global Reinsurance and Proc case has remained strong, and ongoing enhancements to Global Reinsurance's systems are planned.