

Date: Mar 21, 2007

Subject: Procase Consulting – Letter of Reference

Attn: Lev Moltyaner, Managing Partner

Dear Lev,

I would like to express my appreciation for the excellent work that the entire Procase Consulting team has provided to RealtyAssist.

Procase Consulting was contracted to develop a complex real estate application to implement a new business model. Procase did a thorough job collecting requirements and performing analysis. The result was a comprehensive data model and a detailed functional decomposition which captured our business requirements.

Further, the Procase development team was efficient in developing the solution and provided a Beta Release within 4 months by April 2001. Procase was also accommodating in configuring a production environment in their data center which included hardware, software, networking and security issues. The application was successfully hosted through the beta stage and enabled RealtyAssist to secure further investment and, ultimately, a nationwide licensing agreement with Stewart Information Services Corporation (NYSE: STC).

Subsequently, during the dot com shakeout, RealtyAssist purchased one of our competitors with a product which was further along in the implementation cycle. The early successes of RealtyAssist's partnership with Procase, however, ultimately led to the sale of RealtyAssist to Stewart Information Services Corporation at the end of 2003.

In closing, I highly recommend Procase Consulting without reservation as an excellent solution provider with strong business and technical skills.

Sincerely,

Mark Cira
CEO, RealtyAssist.com