Dear Lev:

As we recently passed the second year of the CCFC/Procace working relationship, I wanted to commend Procace on the following.

Procace was willing, ready and able to take on our significant challenges of a custom Oracle application and database in progress that needed re-work and completion. Procace was able to quickly put together a skilled team of Oracle experts and get to work.

Over the period of the project, Procace has always been flexible in working with our specific work requirements, resources allocation, project deadlines, and budget.

The great work of Procace and project accomplishments has resulted in a long-term working relationship to which we look forward to new projects for the coming year.

Thank you for your continued support,

Sincerely,
